

CANADIAN WOMEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE

Dear Prospective CWHL player,

Thanks so much for your interest in playing in the world's highest caliber women's hockey league. This is a very exciting time for women's hockey! Our league is going through a bit of a restructuring phase and we are in the midst of attempting to structure the league to allow the best players in the world a place to play and prosper.

Our board of directors is creating a plan that will initially create a five team league with a team in Montreal, a team in Boston, and three teams in the Greater Toronto area.

For players new to the league, the Montreal and Boston teams will be an open tryout, whereas there will be a draft for all new players wishing to play in the Toronto area with a tryout to follow.

To have your name entered into the draft for one of the three Toronto teams, or to try out for the Montreal or Boston teams, please have your name added to the CWHL list and more details will be emailed to you.

Please email Brenda Andress, cwhled@owha.on.ca the CWHL's executive director with the following info...
